THE city of Cincinnati is offering the last installment of her railroad loan on the following paragraph is from a forci-ble article in the New York Tribung on the market, amounting to $2,800,000. These bonds bear 7 3-10 per cent interest and become due in 1906. The installments already marketed are quoted at 112, asked. The New York Public commends the last installment to the patronage of capitalists on the ground that Cincinnati only owes $10,889,034 50, and has a valuation of $184,498,565, on which a tax was levied hat year of 19.20 mills on the $100. The per cent of debt to valuation is nearly twice that of Wheeling. In other words, Cincinnati's debt is 9 per cent of her valuation and Wheeling's only 5 pet cent. The loan offered by Wheeling is a much safer investment as respects the proportion of assets to liabilities than that offered by Cincinnati, Our valuation is only a little less than one-fourteenth that of Cincinnati, while our debt is only about one-thirteenth as much.

Amono the valuable statistics published from week to week are the reports of the clearing houses of the principal cities. These clearings for 1876 show that the business for the year in 391 that the business for the year in 391 that the business for the year in 391 the first that they did not see certain thing, and sitry, more or less, testify that they did is certain thing, and sitry, more or less, testify that they did see that thing, which side is to be believed? The explanation is easily furnished, in part at least, by the falling off in our im ports for '75, and the increase in our exports. The lady organist at the Cathedral will most kindly pardon us for what may have been taken for a lack of courtesy. There was no intention of that kind. And so, now then you have a bevy of friends conin the last war. What discourages them in the work of hoarding is the fact that the more they buy the lower gold falls. And this very fact, trifling as it may appear, has done more to reassure timid people that we are not to have war than all other causes combined. They watch the gold market for indications of war, and find none, but rather indications of peace and financial acundness. That gold should continue to go down with the papers talking war is to them the myste-ferment region.

HANNIBAL, O., Jan. 3.

Elitors Intelligencer:

I wish to state that an article appeared in the New Martinaville Messenger, of Dec, 21st, which is a point blank Rs. It is as follows:

"We understand that a Wheeling mail came to Bareaville a day or two ago and the carrier returned to Wheeling after another load feithout bripging the New Martinaville mail down."

The editor of the Messenger should be better informed before he belches forth from his cesspool of caluumy.

But for the facts in the case: Previous to the time alluded to the carrier made the trip from Barneaville to Wheeling and return in two days, one day up the night down. On this occasion he left here on Monday morning and returned the same evening between six and seven o'clock, making the round trip in one day. The mail, of course, was not expected before Tuesday evening, and would be due 'at New Martinaville, Wednesday morning. The carrier came on Tuesday to take the mail down and found the New Martinaville, Postmaster take it with him, which he did. Thus they received their mail Tuesday after noon instead of Wednesday morning.

We think there is a tendency in the editor of the Messenger to built-dose.
